WHEREAS, senior citizens play a key role in the vitality of our neighborhoods, family, and social networks, and as they age or become disabled, they become vulnerable to abuse, neglect, and exploitation;

WHEREAS, multidisciplinary agencies and organizations work in partnership to protect the wellbeing, safety, quality of life, and dignity of Montana's senior citizens who require assistance and support in meeting their ongoing needs, including health and mental health care providers, financial advisors, law enforcement, the courts, and community groups;

WHEREAS, agencies that provide oversight and services to senior citizens have reported an increasing number of elder abuse, neglect, and exploitation cases being investigated and prosecuted in Montana;

WHEREAS, outreach and education efforts are critical to inform families, the public, and professionals of elder abuse signs and are effective ways to increase awareness, protect vulnerable senior citizens, and end abuse, neglect, and exploitation;

WHEREAS, interagency coordination is necessary in order to strengthen the effectiveness of educational, prevention, and intervention efforts implemented in Montana for the protection of Montana's senior citizens;
